

A Walk to Fornalutx

This is a stunningly beautiful circular walk, deep in the Sóller valley, among heavily laden orange and lemon trees and a myriad of olive groves, surrounded by the island's highest peaks. Have lunch on the terraces of either Es Turó or Molon, overlooking the picturesque village of Fornalutx, then return to Sóller via the opposite side of the valley.

A Walk to Ses Tres Creus

This short walk consists of going up to Ses Tres Creus from the cemetery and returning by the same path. The views observed from this spot are well worth the small effort required to reaching it.

A Walk to Deia

Deia is an idyllic village of green-shuttered, honey-coloured houses that has become a millionaires' hideaway in the shadow of the Teix mountain, part of the Serra de Tramuntana mountain range.
